

Global Climatic Change Its Implications for Crop Protection

BCPC Monograph No 56

Proceedings of a Symposium organised by the British Crop Protection Council held at The Brighton Metropole Hotel on 22 November 1993.

Edited by D Atkinson

BCPC Registered Office
49 Downing Street
Farnham, Surrey GU9 7PH, UK.

Contents

	Page
Preface	VI
Abbreviations	VIII
Climatic change and its implications P B TINKER	3
Climatic models - changes in physical environmental conditions P R ROWNTREE	13
The potential effects of climate change on world food supply M PARRY and C ROSINGZWEIG	33
Climate change in perspective - vegetation responses to global climate changes of the past G A F HENDRY	57
Impact of climate change on soil processes and soil biological activity K S PREGITZIR	71
Will increasing ozone pollution associated with global climate change alter crop tolerance to herbicides? G E SANDERS, J DIXON and A H COBB	83
Global change: implications for crop protection D ATKINSON	95